

Product End-of-Life (EOL) Notification

EOL Number: WE160207

Notification Date*: January 14, 2016

Product Description & Replacement:
Kit	Replacement
ATSAML22-XPRO	ATSAML22-XPRO-B
Reason for EOL: The devices used on these boards are no longer produced. The pin-out of the SAML22 changed in a way that cannot be worked around in software, and these board uses parts from before the change. So they can't be used to evaluate the device. The EOL is done to clean up the old revision from the board from all systems, and to scrap the stock on hand, as it is not usable for evaluation by customers. This is also the reason for no LTB/LTS. The board is already replaced in the channel with a new revision using the corrected, available SAML22 devices. There will be no customer impact, all customers are using the updated boards. We are just cleaning up the inventory of the old unusable ones.
Last Time Buy Date: Not applicable - no more kits available. *All orders placed after the notification date are non-cancellable and non-returnable (NCNR).
Last Ship Date: Not applicable - no more kits available.
Atmel Contact: Please contact your Atmel Sales Representative or Distributor for additional information (when replying via e-mail please include EOL number in subject line)
